Thrift on the Green raises awareness

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

The Shafter Mennonite Brethren Church hosted an event on Sunday to raise funds and awareness for a proposed thrift store in Shafter. Katie Wiebe, Melissa Bergen and Nancy Neufeld were on hand to help raise funds as part of the Mennonite Central Committee's group of stores across the nation.

There was free food, games and information booths, as well as activities for kids and adults, helping the group introduce themselves to the community. Wiebe said that the idea was formed after the positive experiences that she and Bergen had while being a part of the Shafter Christmas Store. That program allows parents to buy presents at Christmas time at a big discount, giving them a sense of accomplishment, knowing that they bought the presents themselves for their kids.

Wiebe found out about the Mennonite Central Committee's operation of thrift stores across the country. They are businesses that sell household items, clothing, sporting goods and gently used furniture at discount prices.

They are comparable to a Goodwill stores, but with a more intimate and community-related vibe to them.

Wiebe said that once the store is operational, 90% of the proceeds go to the worldwide program. Ten percent of the proceeds would go to the Shafter community. The store will employ Shafter residents, giving a boost to the local economy, as well

Hopefuls share commitment to more quality education

VERONICA JACUINDE

The Wasco Union High School District Board of Trustees election will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

WASCO

Five candidates are running for three positions. They are incumbent Joe Hively, incumbent Juan Bernal, Tony Perez, Mario Juarez and James Adams.

All of the candidates bring years of experience in community service and education. They have served as teachers, coaches, board members, school supervisors and volunteers.

One such candidate is incumbent Juan Bernal, who currently works as the program coordinator for the Wasco Recreation and Parks District. He has served as a WUHS District board member for the past eight years.

He said, "While we've had lots of success at Wasco High, I believe there is more work to be done."

Bernal, a Wasco native, has a diverse background as a Marine Corps veteran and has spent over 20 years in the banking industry. He is also a coach and community volunteer.

He believes that one of the biggest challenges faced by any elected official is how to successfully navigate relationships with people you may not agree with.

"If re-elected, I would continue to be approachable, advocating for what is right, even when it's not popular," Bernal said.

There are many issues he cares about, including diverse student achievement.

"We must offer students high-quality instruction that includes knowledge, skills and values to succeed in career and/or college," Bernal said.

"We must attract and maintain an elite group of teachers, administrators and staff that share a culture of collaboration to see our students succeed."

Bernal is a firm believer in leadership through service.

Joe Hively

"I understand the history and work that has gone in to make our high school district the example many other districts look up to. My service to the community will continue regardless of the outcome of this election," Bernal said.

Another candidate is Tony Perez, who has lived in Wasco for 28 years. He attended Wasco elementary schools and high school.

"I am running to be more involved in the community I care so much about. I have no other agenda than to help make Wasco Union High School District the best high school for our kids."

Perez has been a the maintenance, operations and transportation supervisor for the Lost Hills Union School District for almost six years.

"I have been very involved in the community of Lost Hills, providing support and services such as at community events. In the Wasco community, I have coached for Wasco Recreation and Parks District soccer and baseball for all three of my kids," Perez said.

He enjoys working with youth and thinks serving on the board would be a natural extension of his passion for helping young people.

He added, "I believe I should be elected because I am committed to working with district administration and fellow board members to ensure that we make decisions that are good for the students, parents and

High Speed Rail moving forward in region

STAN WILSON
The Shafter Press

The California High Speed Rail project is moving along through the area, according to officials briefing the public in a virtual community meeting recently.

At a Sept. 22 online event, the Rail Authority's regional director, Garth Fernandez, gave a review of Phase 1 of the project, the 520 miles between San Francisco and Los Angeles. There is currently 119 miles under construction between Madera and Poplar Avenue (between Wasco and Shafter). He said in this section 72% of the structures have been completed, 73% of the right of way built and 90% of the property purchased. The project has employed 8,600 people.

Miguel Moro, CEO of California Railroad Builders, the contractor building Construction Package Four, gave an update on local progress. Construction Package Four is the 22 miles between the northern Kern County line and Poplar Avenue. He said that a number of viaducts – land bridges – were completed: Peterson Road, Poso Creek and Pond Road. Kimberlina Road and the Wasco viaduct are slated to be completed by the end of the year. In addition, the Merced Avenue and Combs Road overpasses, called grade separation structures, are well underway. Highway 46 will have an improved four-lane underpass, as will Poso Avenue. The tunnel underneath the High Speed Rail right of way to access the Amtrak platform also is nearing completion. He emphasized that Amtrak service will not be interrupted and will continue to serve Wasco. The goal is to have Construction Package Four completed by March of 2023.

As far as south of Poplar, a contract for design has been awarded, and once the final design is completed, property acquisition will begin. In answer to a question of when that will happen, he said that it would be a year or two in the future.

More information is available on the High Speed Rail website or by contacting Augie Blancas at Augie.Blancas@hsr.ca.gov or 559-720-6695.

Shafter police holds Coffee with a Cop

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

The Shafter Police Department hosted a Coffee with a Cop on Wednesday morning at Shafter's Tin Cup to allow residents a chance to meet officers, voice concerns and ask questions.

The event was a part of National Coffee with a Cop Day, with cities and towns all over the nation holding similar events.

Shafter Police Chief Zimmermann and his staff were joined by Shafter City Manager Gonzalez, Shafter Council Members

SHAFTER

Cathy Prout, Pete Espinoza, Chad Givens, and other city staff in greeting the public and enjoying coffee and conversation. Shafter officers were able to answer questions from community members on a one-on-one basis. The Coffee with a Cop is also a way for the community to get to know the officers and staff better and build lasting relationships.

Residents said they enjoyed the opportunity to get to know the officers who patrol their streets and work to protect them and keep them safe.

Richard Salazar, who was there with his two children, said that events like this are important to keep communication open between the residents and the Police Department. "With all of the things going on in the nation, it is important that we know that the police department is here to protect us, we are on the same team," said Salazar. "My kids loved meeting the officers and learning that they are friends and are here to keep us safe and protected."

The event was held a day after the announcement came out that the Shafter Police Department had secured a federal grant of $6 million to build a substation on Gosamer Road in the Gosamer Grove housing development.

The Police Department has enjoyed a good relationship with the area residents, but, according to Chief Zimmermann, this project will make the operations even smoother, with having a 24/7 presence out in the area. "With more houses and residents, comes the need for more protection. We need this to protect the city even more effectively," concluded Zimmermann.

Assistant Police Chief Diana Burnett said that the event was a great way to meeting with the public and help build relationships with the residents that they serve.

She said that they are here to serve the public and anyone with a concern or question is welcome to contact the Police Department or visit the station.

At Sandra's, more than wedding gowns

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

Sandra's Wedding Shop has served the community of Wasco for the last 16 years. As the only store in town specializing in gowns for all occasions, her business has thrived.

Owner Flor Casillas runs the shop by herself. Over the years, she has developed an expertise that allows her to deliver top-notch customer service.

She sells wedding, bridesmaids and quinceañera gowns.

"When people buy a dress, I offer free alterations and custom tailoring. That's not the case for other shops. In this way, I am saving my clients money."

Casillas is known for her quinceañera dresses and offers a discount when you buy a whole set, including the crown, bouquet and champagne glasses.

She also offers tuxedo rentals and outfits for baptisms and first communions.

Casillas is energetic and lively and brings passion to her work. She relies solely on word of mouth for advertising.

She works hard to satisfy her customers with her boutique-like setting.

"I strive for them to be happy with what I sell so they can keep coming back and spreading their shopping experience with others," Casillas said. "I think that is why I have clients from McFarland, Shafter and Bakersfield."

Casillas worked her way up from working as a cashier before opening her shop.

"I saw the opportunity to take over the business, so I grabbed it."

In Wasco, she has lived here for the last 30 years.

"I married here and raised all of my four children in Wasco. I love this town."

She said she feels supported by the community.

"I have repeat customers who are always here to support me. With their loyalty, I have been successful throughout the years. I wouldn't be here without them," Casillas said.

She said that businesses come and go, though she is dedicated and clients come first for her.

"I like to get close, to know them, to know exactly what they need and want. I give thanks to God that my clients leave feeling good," Casillas said.

Owner Flor Casillas working on an alteration.

"I like helping people with their special celebrations, which brings me much satisfaction."

Casillas said that sometimes the people that come to her are stressed, and she feels a big responsibility to assist them.

"I have so much experience I can guide them to ensure their events are successful and that they look their best."

She sells her gowns reasonably and strives to make them accessible to all working with their budgets.

"Many of my clients are agricultural workers and low-income. It's important for me to offer good prices, better than you would find in a bigger city like Bakersfield."

Casillas likes to give back and sponsors Wasco High School football and cheerleading teams.

"I feel good knowing I am in a position to do so."

She hopes to be around for many more years to come and will continue to fill a void in the community.

Sandra's Wedding Shop, 651 D St., is open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. For more information, call 661-758-8250.

Bike event a day of safety and education

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

Bike Bakersfield will host a fun community bike ride in Wasco on Saturday, Oct. 15, for family and friends to enjoy.

It is open to all ages and skill levels and will take place at Barker Park. Registration starts at 9 a.m. and there is no cost to participate.

Community bike rides are a way to bring people together to engage and bring excitement around cycling.

City leaders, including Mayor Gilberto

WASCO

Reyna, will attend to support the day of bike safety and bike riding education.

Mayor Reyna reached out to Tony Renteria, education and outreach coordinator with Bike Bakersfield, to plan a free bike ride that would be open to all Wasco residents to help Wasco become a healthier community.

"We all know that our health improves when we move," Reyna said.

Educating the public about safety is also important, he said. "A couple of recent incidents where two cyclists collided with two different motor vehicles resulted in one rider's death; this is a significant concern."

"Many local cyclists do not use hand signals while riding and lack essential safety equipment such as a helmet. Those riding at night also need a headlight and a rear light."

Chris Serna, the WRPD district manager, enthusiastically agreed to host the bike ride and provide refreshments. Oscar Luna from the WUESD administration is promoting the event among the student body and will be attending himself.

The City of Wasco is also participating and will provide free bicycle helmets while they last. They are required for all those under the age of 18.

The ride will follow a 2-mile route and end up back at Barker Park.

Bike Bakersfield's cyclists and instructors will review proper bike and helmet fit, traffic skills and cyclist's rights on the roadways.

The event is more than just a bike ride.

"We are here to bring more awareness to cycling within Wasco because cycling is not just about physical health it's about mental wellness, too," Renteria said.

After the ride, there will be music and a question and answer session with Bike Bakersfield staff.

The bike ride is made available to the City of Wasco by the Active Transportation program, which the Kern Council of Governments funds. Reyna is a member of this council.

The goal of the program is to help people feel more secure about getting on a bike, to create a mindset that bikes are treated as a vehicle and to ensure that people on bikes know how to ride safely and legally.

"I thank Tony, Chris and her staff, the City of Wasco staff and Oscar for their support of this event. Join us. Learn about safe bicycle riding and have some fun," Reyna said.

For more information, email tony@bikebakersfield.org.

Waste event an opportunity to clean up

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

Kern County Public Works, in partnership with American Refuse, will be holding a bulky waste event in Shafter on Saturday Oct. 15, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., in the parking lot of the Superior Courthouse in Shafter. This location is different than previous events, which were regularly held at the Shafter Aquatic Center.

This event gives the community a chance to get rid of bulky items that they do not need anymore. They can dispose of them free of charge. Items that will be accepted are home appliances such as stoves, refrigerators and dishwashers. They will also be accepting mattresses, televisions and e-waste, furniture, water heaters and tires without rims. They will only accept nine tires per customer, per trip, due to a state law restricting the number of tires that can be disposed of at one time.

Items not being accepted at the event are hazardous waste, green waste, construction and remodeling waste, and business waste.

According to Lynnda Martin of American Refuse, the event gives the public a chance to get rid of items that they may need to dispose of and didn't want to take a trip to the landfill. "Residents are welcome to bring their bulky items down and we will take them off of their hands," said Martin. She said that there will also be a giveaway at the event for residents.

"We will be giving out free compost to all attendees who need it. They do need to bring their own bag, bucket or container for their compost."

They will also be giving away nutless pistachio trees free of charge. There is a limit of one tree per household. "These trees don't produce nuts. They do provide excellent shade for the yard," said Martin.

The bulky waste event will be in the courthouse parking lot.

Wasco Rotary Festival returns

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

Once again, as has been done over the last 20 years, the Wasco Rotary Club will host its annual festival on Thursday, Oct. 20., at the Shafter-Wasco Elks Lodge. There will be a steak dinner, drinks, prizes, a silent auction and a chance to win a $5,000 raffle.

The reverse raffle allows many people to go away with a prize. Every ticket will be drawn until the last five, where those raffle ticket holders decide if they want to split the money or keep drawing tickets so that one person takes home the top prize.

At the event, there will be networking and socializing with community members who care about making a difference in Wasco.

"It is a good time. Once you've done it, it's likely you will want to do it again," said event chair Tony Stout.

The festival is the largest fundraiser for the club and usually attracts over 150 people.

"It is an opportunity to catch up with old friends you haven't seen in a while and make new ones," said club member Larry Pennell.

The money raised is used to support

Wasco Rotary Club member Larry Pennell said the festival will be a delightful occasion.

many community projects, such as a Wasco High scholarship, the 4th of July fireworks show, the Wasco Rose Festival and Miss Wasco Rose Queen.

"There are other local programs we help fund," said Pennell.

Along with other clubs worldwide, the Wasco Rotary Club helps eradicate polio.

Pennell adds, "The evening will allow us to put our best foot forward and show residents of the community what worthwhile projects we have supported. We truly are a service club."

Of the festival, Pennell said he has never been to one that wasn't a fun evening.

"Everyone leaves with a smile and some with a few thousand dollars," he said.

Organizing the festival is a huge undertaking.

"The event requires 100% of our club members to make it successful," said Pennell. "It is an all-hands effort."

Coming out of covid makes it exciting, he said, since the event was postponed in 2020.

Tickets are $175 and include two meals with all the fixings and one raffle ticket.

A sold-out crowd is expected. Tickets are available from club members or call Tony Stout at 661-333-7340.

Pop-up raises funds for North Kern

North Kern Christian School held its third annual pop-up fundraising event on Saturday. Over 25 small businesses participated selling an array of items, including homemade baked goods, holiday decorations, clothing apparel, toys and home decor.

Kaylen Sanchez sold croc charms and Disney-themed accessories.

"It is nice to see all of the businesses come together and something fun to do without having to leave the city," Sanchez said.

She added, "I enjoy coming to pop-up events and shopping. I think it is important to support small businesses."

Jonathan Martinez, owner of Johnn Boyss, was there selling lemonade and Mexican snacks like tostilocos, corn on the cob, tik tok pickles and aguas frescas in mango pineapple and blue raspberry flavors.

Of the event, he said he enjoys interacting with people and getting his products out there.

"The best part was meeting new people and spending time with my friends and family that came to help me," Martinez said.

Xochitl Buenrostro has participated in the event for the last three years.

"I always have a great experience. They did a good job coordinating the special event."

She brought jewelry, different cartoon character figurines, toys, stuffed animals, decals and key chains.

"I like to price my items at a good price so those that come can afford to take something special home. I try to bring unique items you don't usually find in a regular store. The kids love it," Buenrostro said.

In line with the upcoming holiday shopping season, Kim Bennett sold Christmas tree napkins, crocheted animals, baby burp cloths and acrylic and wood writing pens.

"I put a lot of love into my crafts. It usually takes me about six hours to hand crochet the animals," Bennett said.

It was her first time ever participating in a pop-up sale.

Bennett said, "I received many compliments, especially for my Christmas napkins. They are one of a kind because no two sets are the same."

There were tasty treats.

Haley Plaza came with her homemade cronuts, a mix between a donut and croissant.

"I'm the only one in Kern County that sells these. I got the idea from a bakery in Nashville," Plaza said.

She has been baking since 2018.

"I have no training. I'm self-taught and just read a lot of books and watched youtube videos," Plaza said.

The LifeHouse Wasco Church's worship team provided festive live music with uplifting songs in Spanish and English.

Pastor Mark Scialabba, from Congregational Bible Church, distributed biblical literature.

"I am spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ," Scialabba said. "It is an opportunity to get connected with the public and promote our church."

Moriah Murrieta attended the event and said, "I think today was pretty cool because it is a small school, and it was nice to see all the people that came. Plus, they had cute stuff for sale."

She added, "I bought a bracelet, a ring and lots of cookies. They tasted delicious."

Another guest, Maria Moreno, said, "I think it's fun, and there are interesting things to buy. I had to control myself."

Event chair and preschool director Valerie Aleman shared, "It's a great turnout. Lots of goodies, and everyone seems to be having a good time."

She said the event is a big fundraiser for the school.

"The money raised will go back to the school for educational materials and different improvements. The event was a success, and we look forward to doing it again in the spring."

Event planning committee members Valerie Aleman, Angela Scialabba and Eva Ruddell. BELOW: Melody Gebhardt sold decorative tumblers and glittered office supplies.

Ej Mendoza enjoyed the arts and crafts activities for kids.

Mosquito season not over yet

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

The Kern Mosquito Vector Control held a media event recently and stated that the end of mosquito season is not quite here yet, with the cooling trend keeping the populations up, according to our Terry Knight, public information officer for Kern Mosquito Vector Control. "We still need to keep our guard up against these pests, but the season is expected to end around the end of October."

Kern County has used a new weapon this year in its fight against the pests, especially the newest mosquito on the radar, the Aedes Aegypti, or ankle biter species of mosquito. This pest reared its head a few years ago and has been wreaking havoc since then. The mosquito does not carry the West Nile Virus, but it is very aggressive and bites multiple times, with a painful bite. "This mosquito is a lot more aggressive than the other species in the area and can survive in a very small space, even in a bottle cap full of water, in which thousands of eggs can be laid."

Beginning in June, the district tried out the new weapon in limited areas in Bakersfield. Using a truck-mounted, gasoline-powered mist blower that generated a plume of water mist and mosquito larvicide over the front and back yards of homes in residential neighborhoods, operators hoped to be able to cover a swath of about 300 feet.

The motorized atomizer mixes water with a product called Vecto-Bac WDG, which contains Bacillus thuringiensis israelensis, or Bti, a naturally occurring soil bacteria whose toxicity is limited to mosquitoes and related flies, according to the district. Bti has no toxicity to people and pets, Knight said, and is certified for the treatment of organic crops. The process is known as Wide Area Larvicide Spray treatment.

The district chose three 1-square-mile zones, in southwest, northwest and northeast Bakersfield to spray repeatedly over the next several weeks. The study also included a control zone to monitor mosquito levels in an area untouched by the spray.

Some residents were understandably unsettled by the effort to spray over their property. Other area residents who had suffered awful bites and effects from the mosquitoes begged to be added to the spray area.

Beginning in early June, one zone received six weekly applications and the other two zones only five due to equipment failure.

In July, each zone received two applications, two weeks apart, Knight said.

Knight said that the best defense against this pest is to eliminate sources of standing water, such as water left in plant containers, small pools, drainage vents by water sources. He advises people with potted plants to make sure to scrub the bottoms and trays underneath the pots with a mixture of bleach to kill the eggs.

In the Shafter and Wasco area, the amount of service calls has increased by 10 times in the in the past three years, with the invasion of the ankle-biter species being the main culprit. For questions and to report on a problem in your area with mosquitoes, contact Vector Control at 661-589-2744.

as giving the community a better option than going outside Shafter to buy similar items.

Wiebe said that they are searching for a building that they could acquire that will meet their needs. The building would have to have a showroom, as well as access to the back of the building for deliveries. "We have talked to a few people, but we are still looking for a building," said Wiebe.

A large number of residents were on hand to help the event run smoothly. Donna Nickel and Deanna Peters were serving tri-tip beef, beans, macaroni salad and rolls at no charge.

Nickel said that she is looking forward to the opening of the store. "This is so great for our community. I think that we really need a store like this, being able to buy quality items at a lower price. We wouldn't even have to leave Shafter!" commented Nickel.

Peters said that it will also mean jobs for Shafter, as well as a great place to shop.

Those interested in getting involved in the project can contact Bergen at 661-776-5866. To donate, you can send a tax-deductible check to Listen to Shafter, with "Thrift" on in the memo line, to P.O. Box 489, Shafter 93263.

You can also donate at @listento-shafter.org, (Thrift On).

Katie Wiebe, Nancy Neufeld and Melissa Bergen are the leaders of the thrift-store project. BELOW: Bingo was on tap for the event.

There were plenty of games for the kids to play.

Tigers lose to Chavez Titans, 49-8

JAMIE STEWART
Wasco Tribune

The Wasco Tigers dropped to 1-2 in league play after a 49-8 loss to the Chavez Titans on Thursday night.

The Tigers had a very close game a couple of weeks ago with Kennedy, the league favorite, losing 28-20, but the Tigers were dominated by the Titans, who are tied for first with Kennedy.

WASCO

Chavez started the game quickly, getting on the board with only five minutes gone in the game, going up 7-0. It is Wasco who is known for their fast starts, but David Manzo and his offense looked off key all night. The Tigers also were hurt by three interceptions, which stalled drives that were attempted to get the Tigers back in the game.

Chavez had a 21-0 lead at halftime when the Titans' Israel Gonzalez scored the third of his four touchdowns of the game. Gonzalez ended the game with 152 yards rushing while the Titans' defense held Tigers powerhouse running back Izaiah Juarez to 65 yards rushing for the game.

The Titans' coaching staff said that they concentrated last week on working on their ball control offense, keeping the Tigers' offense off of the field as much as possible.

The strategy worked, as the Tigers' defense was unable to make key stops as Chavez drove down to the field.

This week, the Tigers host the Tigers of Delano, newcomers to the SSL. Wasco will be looking to even their SSL record at 2-2. The junior varsity game will begin at 5 p.m. on Friday night, with the varsity kicking off at 7:30 p.m.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. Notice to property owner: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to tenant: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. overall the school community."

Perez said he cares deeply about the community of Wasco and advocates for students to receive a high-quality education, for there to be school safety and strengthen the voice of parents.

He said of his experience supporting youth, "I have extensive knowledge about the school system and operations, and I am fully committed to making a difference."

Candidate James Adams has strong roots in Wasco. He and his wife, Monica, are both WHS alumni; she currently works as a Wasco Independence High School teacher. His daughter, Sara, attends WHS.

In his professional life, he is a strategic buyer for the Chevron Corporation supply chain.

Adams has served, supported and been involved in many local organizations, such as the WHS football boosters, Ag boosters, WRPD baseball and softball coach, Wasco Bengals and Wasco wrestling club, where he is the vice-president of the board.

He says he is a man of faith and a Canyon Hills Wasco Church member.

As someone that lives year around in Wasco and works full time, he believes he is up to date on the current issues and trends.

"I am invested in this district and the future of this district and this community. The success of this district and our families of the WUHS is imperative to me," Adams said.

He said if elected, he would serve the role with honor, respect and understanding while supporting the district's belief statement of "Educational Excellence for All."

"I would fully support all efforts to ensure the safety, mental health and well-being of every student and employee of the district. Our future is counting on us."

He thinks he stands out among the other candidates.

"I have a servant's heart and have enjoyed coaching over the years, so I think these qualities naturally exemplify why I am the best candidate."

Incumbent Joe Hively is up for re-election.

He said he is running to give students the best opportunity for a quality education.

Hively was a teacher for 30 years at WHS. While there, he coached two sports teams each year and was a yearbook advisor for 11 years.

He has extensive experience in public service, having served on the Wasco Recreation and Parks District board for six years, the City Council for seven and a half years, one year as mayor pro tem and one year as mayor.

In addition, he spent four years on the 1% sales tax committee.

As a current board member, he has held several positions, including a year as the clerk and one year as the board president.

Hively has been part of the Wasco Elks Lodge for 13 years and a volunteer for Toys for Tigers over the last ten years. He was born and raised in Wasco and said his passion for the Wasco Tigers is as strong as ever.

About the issues he supports, Hively said he wants students, parents and staff to have trust in their educational system.

"[I want] students to feel safe and secure and to become the very best that they can be," said Hively.

He looks forward to the opportunity to continue serving as a board member.

"With the leadership roles and experience I have had in the Wasco community, I am excited to be part of the growth and future of Wasco High," Hively said.

Mario Juarez seeks to join the school board because he wants to get more involved with the community. He has lived in Wasco for almost 60 years and said he loves it here.

Education has a special place in his heart.

"My desire is to help students and empower them so they can reach their full potential," Juarez said.

He believes that students need a lot of support, especially from their parents.

"That is where you start. As a board member, that would be one of my focuses."

He said he would work to encourage more parents to participate in their children's education.

"I would like for there to be more parents attending the board meetings and sharing their concerns," Juarez said. "School leadership needs to hear from them, and more outreach is needed."

Juarez has been with WHS for 30 years as a custodian. He worked his way up to supervisor in that department. He also used to drive a school bus.

Throughout his time serving the WUHS District, he has grown to care about the students and wants to see them succeed.

"If elected, I will work tirelessly to ensure our students have the best educational experience possible," Juarez said. "I am a person of trust, honor and respect and will bring these values if allowed to join the board."

Youth soccer game to build bonds

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

The Amigos F.C. will host a friendly soccer game on Friday, October 14th, against local law enforcement, including deputies and CHP officers. The event will take place at Palm Avenue Middle School.

"Everyone is super excited. It's going to be a fun day full of entertainment," Sergio Ramirez, manager and head coach, said. "It will be a great game to watch."

He added, "After the game, law enforcement will bond with the team members and share advice."

With this, he said it's important for their players to have other role models to help them.

"Our goal is for our players to develop trust with law enforcement. Unfortunately, youth see them as just punishment. We want them to see a brighter side of what they do," Ramirez said.

In addition to Ramirez, two other coaches, Manuel Hernandez and Alex Morales, assist him. All three donate their time. Together they bring a passion and love for the sport they share with the youth on the team.

Amigos F.C. is a soccer club for 6th, 7th and 8th graders. Based in Wasco, it is open to both boys and girls. They play in the Bakersfield Champions League Club and practice Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Ramirez said that youth are learning life skills to prepare them for their future.

"They take away leadership, respect and responsibility values. We encourage students to dream big and work hard to reach their goals inside and outside the classroom and field," Ramirez said.

He added, "It's not all about winning. Whether your win or lose, you always learn."

The team was launched in 2020.

"Since we started, the City of Wasco has been good to us. We appreciate their ongoing support of our young people that make up the team."

Ramirez said he also counts on the support of their parents.

"Without them, we wouldn't have the success we enjoy now. We treat each other like family."

Amigos F.C. soccer team.

Alex Morales Jr. going in for the score.

He is especially grateful to Palm Avenue Middle School counselor Elena Contreras for her help in making the field available to them.

There is a $40 fee to join the league and play for Amigos F.C.

"We try to cover as much as we can with fundraising and want to be able to include as many young people as possible," Ramirez said.

There is a $5 recommended donation to attend, and the money raised will be used for uniforms and equipment. It is their biggest fundraiser of the year.

Doors open at 4:30 p.m., and the game begins at 5 p.m. They will play at 1017 Palm Avenue.

Tigers put up a fight against Chavez

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

The Wasco High School girl's varsity volleyball team went head-to-head against Delano's Cesar Chavez High School. It was an exciting game, but in the end, they lost, 3-1.

A spirited crowd rooted for the girls with chants and cheers. For the seniors, it was their last home game, and emotions ran high.

Makenna Gebhardt said that the Tigers gave it their all, and thinks that is what counts.

"They fought until the end, and they made Cesar Chavez work for the win this time," Mia Hernandez said.

The game was full of energy, and the girls brought their passion and love to the sport.

"I loved the game. It was a great match-up. I'm happy with the way they played," Elizabeth Habshire said.

Angelina Cortez enjoyed the game. "The best part was the rallies back and forth," she said.

It was a fierce battle between two talented teams.

Araceli Fuentes said the Tigers didn't give up, and both teams put in a strong effort all the way around.

"I think Wasco tried their hardest, but it was an off game for them," Xavier Iniguez said.

Left hitter Daisy Razo said they pushed hard, but it was not hard enough.

Lessons were learned.

"I learned that you don't have to get in your head if you make a mistake. You have to clear your mind and move on to the next challenge," Razo said.

She added, "Some of our players had some great hits."

Cadence Hazelton plays the all-around position.

"I think we could have played better, but we weren't at our best," she said. "Chavez won our league around three times. They were a tough team to play."

"It was our best competition ever though we still could have won. It was my senior night, and I tried to have fun."

She said you should never give up.

"You always have a chance," Hazelton said. "I'm looking forward to our next game. I hope to play like tonight but have better execution and play like a team instead of an individual."

Senior player Grace Cobb had positive experience this season.

"We did a good job playing together. We definitely improved since the last time we played them. The best part is being out there with the girls. This team is really close; it's a family. Any day I get to spend with the girls is a good day."

The team has big goals.

"We have our mind set on the playoffs. We have three more games, and it's looking like we'll go to the playoffs," Cobb said. "Today, I learned that it really takes commitment. Everything you do in life takes hard work; it's just a matter of who is willing to dedicate themselves."

The varsity team was relieved and excited after winning their first set against CCHS.

Generals even league record with win over Delano, 56-14

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

The Shafter High Generals evened their league record at 2-2 after a big win at Delano 56-14 on Friday night. In one of the most complete games of the season, the Generals had contributions by all phases of the game, including offense, defense and special teams. Freshman quarterback Ezekiel Osborne had his most productive game, with over 300 yards passing. Osborne finished the game 14-18 passing, with six touchdowns. Osborne had a complete arsenal, with four receivers scoring touchdowns. Jesus Figueroa had four catches for 131 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Generals. Shafter began the game with a score on their first possession of the game, when Osborne connected with Figueroa on a 12-yard score. Koa Rhodes, the dynamic running back for Shafter, who ended the game with 107 yards rushing, scored on Shafter's next possession, making the score 14-0. The Generals were leading 21-7 late in the first half when it looked like the Tigers may be driving before halftime to close the gap. But, the Generals' defense got the ball back for Shafter on a fumble recovery, and the Generals took advantage of the opportunity with another score to go up 28-7. This was a 40-yard touchdown pass from Osborne to Jesse Bernal. In the second half, the Shafter defense kept the pressure on the Tigers and never let them get a rhythm in the game. The Generals' defense held Delano to 54 yards rushing and 137 yards passing for the game. After halftime, Christopher Espinoza ate up a lot of yardage and time on the clock as he ground out over 100 yards rushing in the game, to complement Rhodes' performance. The Generals' offense ended the game with 201 yards on the ground and a whopping 323 yards in the air. Coach Jerald Pierucci said that this was the most complete game of the season for the squad.

"The team finally played a complete game. Up to this point in the season, we had at the most played two good quarters of football. This game encompassed all three phases of the game." Pierucci also said that seeing the team play well in all three phases against a good team, in a tough environment, was encouraging for where this team is going. The Generals will have the week off this week, giving them some extra time to prepare for league favorite Kennedy High School. Shafter will host Kennedy on Friday night, Oct. 21. The junior varsity game will begin at 5 p.m., with the varsity kicking off at 7:30 p.m.

PASTOR'S CORNER

Tis the season

PASTOR STEVE DOBBS
Community Circle Church

Have you noticed that it's that season again? The season I am referring to is the silly season we refer to around here as election season. Every two years we go to the polls - except here in California where we mail our ballots - and we decide who we want to represent us and which of the 20 million propositions that end up on the ballot we want passed. The wonderful thing about our country is we have the freedom to choose who we want to represent us at the local, state, and national level. When we look around the world, not many other countries have the freedom to vote that we as Americans often take for granted. If you and I could sit down over a cup of coffee and discuss the issues of the day I'm absolutely positive there are issues that we would be in total agreement on, and yet others where we would find stark differences. It is unfortunate in my opinion that the media, news organizations and politicians of every party seize this opportunity every two years to drive a wedge between us so they can gain or maintain power. I am not here to tell you how to vote. I believe you should vote and let your voice be heard. But let me offer you the following challenge: Make sure you know what you are voting for. Vote for the person and not the party. Most importantly, please do not let this election season cause division between you, your neighbors and your family. God has not called us to be divided, but to be in unity one with another. Colossians 3:14: Even more than all this, clothe yourself in love. Love is what holds you all together in perfect unity. The politicians and media want to divide us along economic, racial, educational and religious differences. What I hope we can realize is we are all human beings with the same need to put food on the table, shelter over our heads and to be loved. Once we realize as a society that no matter how different we may appear to those who are after our vote, when it comes right down to it we really aren't that different. Let's come together in unity for our fellow man and live in love, peace, harmony and unity. Wouldn't that be a huge slap in the face to those who want to separate and exploit us for their political gain? Steve Dobbs is pastor of Community Circle Church in Shafter. The opinions expressed are his own and may not represent the paper of its management.

PUBLIC NOTICE
T.S. No. 102164-CA APN: 026-481-18-00 NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST, DATED 5/5/2006. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER On 10/24/2022 at 10:00 AM, CLEAR RECON CORP, as duly appointed trustee under and pursuant to Deed of Trust recorded 5/16/2006 as Instrument No. 0206120535 of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Kern County, State of CALIFORNIA executed by: RUBEN AMADOR, A MARRIED MAN AS HIS SOLE & SEPARATE PROPERTY WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION TO HIGHEST BIDDER FOR CASH, CASHIER'S CHECK DRAWN ON A STATE OR NATIONAL BANK, A CHECK DRAWN BY A STATE OR FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, SAVINGS ASSOCIATION, OR SAVINGS BANK SPECIFIED IN SECTION 5102 OF THE FINANCIAL CODE AND AUTHORIZED TO DO BUSINESS IN THIS STATE; AT THE FRONT ENTRANCE TO THE CITY HALL, 1501 TRUXTUN AVENUE, BAKERSFIELD, CA 93301 all right, title and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust in the property situated in said County and State described as: MORE FULLY DESCRIBED ON SAID DEED OF TRUST The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 435 FAIRHAVEN AVENUE, SHAFTER, CA 93263 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be held, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, condition, or encumbrances, including fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust, to pay the remaining principal sums of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is: $130,294.49 If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.AUCTION.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 102164-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clear-reconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 102164-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
