A woman of many hats

FOCUS ON FARMING | Jenny Holtermann

JAMIE STEWART

SHAFTER

A local almond farmer has been wearing several hats, living a life that is an example of hard work and its rewards. Jenny Holtermann is a farmer, an executive, a wife and mother, all while working to preserve a bright future for future generations. Holtermann is a fourth-generation farmer, beginning her career up in Chico on her family's almond ranch. She attended Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, where she met her future husband, Tim. After graduation, they moved to Shafter, beginning a new chapter. Holtermann, known by friends as Jenny Almond Girl, works at getting their product ready for sale and shipping, as well as giving her children the time they need at home.

And she puts an emphasis on being good stewards of the land that they manage.

Holtermann has been the executive director of the Kern Water District since 2020, giving her a platform to put her ideals out front, preserving the land and its gifts for those who follow them. "I want there to be a farm here if our children

The city of Shafter will be holding its annual Fireworks Show this year on Monday July 3, with the gates opening at 6 p.m. and fireworks beginning at dusk. The event will be held at the Shafter Recreation baseball fields, right next to Shafter High Football stadium.

Many will be familiar with the location even from years when the event was held at the stadium, since that's where they camped out to watch the show.

The Shafter Chamber of Commerce is once again the sponsor of the event, with a number of sponsors making it free. Donations from the public are encouraged and accepted.

There also will be a variety of vendors at the event, selling food, drinks and toys, and there will also be a game area for the kids, keeping them entertained until it is time for the main event to take place as the sun sets.

The fireworks show attracts families from all over Kern County, with the event being one of only a few still held in the county. With

A grand celebration to honor the great nation's independence is set for Saturday, July 1, at Barker Park from 4 to 9:30 pm.

Organized by the Wasco Recreation and Parks District, the Red, White & Boom Fireworks Festival will kick off with a flag ceremony, followed by a bicycle parade, music, food, vendors, a watermelon contest, Red, White & Pool Party and a finale fireworks show.

All of the activities are free and open to all ages.

"The fireworks show has been a long-standing tradition for 20-plus years in Wasco. The Chamber of Commerce at the time started the tradition, and over the years, independent organizations as well. The WRPD took over the fireworks last year and continues the tradition," said WRPD Manager Chris Serna.

The fireworks show is expected to last 15 minutes, with some new fireworks incorporated into the display.

The flag ceremony is a special component of the event.

"During the flag ceremony, Wasco Scouts #950 will present the American flag to the audience. At this point, the Wasco Scouts #950 and the audience will acknowledge and salute its presence as a sign of respect to our nation and those

Colours Festival moving forward

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

SHAFTER

The Shafter Colours Festival planning committee met again last Thursday, with plans for the festival moving forward and getting a little more specific. The committee designated members in the different departments of the committee, using different residents' experience and strengths.

After the dissolution of the festival a few years ago, a large number of residents were voicing their aim of revitalizing the event.

The new festival will highlight the talents of residents and organizations.

Some of the different divisions of the festival are the Promotions Department, being headed up by Randy Toews. Toews did a promoted the festival during its previous version. In the Arts/Photography Department, Cris and Dana Starrh will be involved, as well as Radon and Judy Fortenberry, and also Barbara Gladden and photographer Colleen Dilltz. Fortenberry operated the Art Gallery for the festival for years.

Shafter Recreation and Parks District Manager Philip Jimenez, along with Missy Espericueta, will head up the Sports efforts. Handling the Finance Department will be Scott Hurlbert and Cathy Prout. Pastor Pat Coyle, of the Shafter Mennonite Brethren Church, will be in charge of the Community Worship events.

Very popular in the past, the Wine Tasting event will be headed up by former Shafter Mayor Garry Nelson. Some of the events that have been mentioned for the festival are festival favorites color run, art gallery, coffeehouse music, a spaghetti dinner that usually kicks off the event.

New suggestions being discussed are a community worship service, a cornhole tournament, car show and a boxing exhibition.

The event is expected to be in February like before, but the date is expected to be firmed up during the next meeting of the committee Thursday, July 20.

Wasco Rose Festival is back with more fun

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

Preparations for the annual Wasco Rose Festival are underway, with the selection of this year's "You've Got a Friend in Wasco" theme. A long-standing tradition, the event promises to be another exciting lineup of activities for the community to enjoy the weekend after Labor Day, Sept. 7-9, 2023.

The Rose Festival begins with the Miss Wasco Rose Queen Pageant at the Wasco High School auditorium Thursday, Sept. 7. The Wasco Elk Ladies will bring an Evening of Wine and Roses on Friday, Sept. 8. This night honors the grand marshals, the honorary grand marshal organization and community leaders.

The next day, festivities will include a color-blast fun run hosted by Wasco Recreation and Parks District, the Rose Parade, a vendor fair and Block and Tackle Deep Pit Dinner.

Added to the roster this year is a pancake breakfast, a fundraiser for the Wasco High Traveling Tigers and Wasco Lady Tiger/Tiger Golf.

"Bringing back popular components we all remember and adding new ones is a goal for us each year," Orange Heart Foundation President Traci Mills-Clendenen said,

WASCO

A core group of five Wasco Rose Festival committee and Orange Heart Foundation members have been working to ensure the event will be memorable for all.

They are community advocates Mills-Clendenen, Juan Gallardo, Sharon Sharp, Orquidea Ocampo and Camilo Vasquez.

Additional team members include Stephanie Mixco, Christi Johnson, and Kishna and Stephen Nored.

This year's partners include the Wasco Elk Ladies, the WHS football booster club, the Rose Queen Pageant, Traveling Tigers and WHS boys and girls golf teams.

"Our partners are essential to the growth of the festival, and giving back to the community through supporting local nonprofits is a wonderful way to honor our history and build toward the future," Mills-Clendenen said.

"Last year, we were grateful the Wasco Woman's Club helped us bring back the art show, but now the WUHSD has stepped in to oversee it through the leadership of WHS teacher Julie Pineo," Sharp said.

This year's focus will be highlighting student art available for purchase.

"The art show has traditionally featured an artist. This is a change to shift focus on student art and fostering our young talent," Sharp said.

Wasco Rose Festival flyer.

Other partners are returning this year, such as Eddie Velasquez, who organizes the 2nd to None basketball tournament, and DJ David Armendariz.

For the first time, the Wasco Community Revival will host a free children's art station and booth at Barker Park with free fun activities for kids.

"The Wasco Rose Festival is the legacy event in our community," Sharp said. "For 54 years, it has been something special, and we strive to continue that and to grow it so that it lasts to infinity and beyond."

This year's theme, from the Disney movie Toy Story, was selected by the Miss Wasco Rose Queen Pageant.

"We are thrilled to have a theme that encompasses the community of Wasco. The goal is that no matter where you look, you will have a friend in Wasco," Sharp said.

She does what she does to keep the gift of the event alive.

"I was that little girl growing up that went to the festival, wanted to run for Rose Queen and be a part of the festival, so for me, this is just a blessing to be able to give back to my community in this way."

Volunteers are needed to pull off such a grand occasion, and Sharp encourages those to lend a hand.

"Anything we volunteer for is wonderful. This is an opportunity where in one day, you can give back to our entire community because all of Wasco attend the festival. It's a way to support all of Wasco in one day."

Other exciting announcements will be forthcoming, she said, Ticket information for Wine and Roses, the pancake breakfast and Block and Tackle Deep Pit dinner will be announced soon.

Parade and vendor applications are to be ready shortly. For any questions or to volunteer or sponsor, email wascorf@gmail.com.

Community activist Barbara Lucas passes

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

Barbara Lucas, a cherished friend to many, was a beloved mother, grandmother and aunt, playing an integral part in the community. After a lifetime of joy and happiness, she passed away peacefully on June 10.

She was born in Turlock, on Oct. 24, 1933, to Jephtha Ivan Stone and Rowena Matthews Stone. After living in Marysville for a short time, the family found their way to Shafter.

In 1954 she married Edwin Lucas of Wasco and moved with him there, where she lived for the rest of her life.

At 16, she began a 70-year career as a bookkeeper, holding many positions with Fred West and Associates, Tops Market, Lost Hills Chevron and Wasco Realty.

Two years after her marriage, in 1956, their first son David was born, and then in 1958, her son Dale completed a family of four she loved dearly.

Her greatest love, however, was her grandchildren.

"Her true passion was her grandchildren. She would take them to movies, buy the latest best-selling children's books, babysit, help with college expenses and take them to special shows in Bakersfield, as well as too many special things to note," David said.

He said her goal, which she accomplished in 2003, was to take her two sons' families on a New Year's trip week to New York City, running around Manhattan and taking in a few Broadway plays.

"It was the vacation of a lifetime, and she loved that she could accomplish it."

Barbara had many hobbies, especially photographing and videotaping athletic events, weddings and quinceaneras. It gave her much satisfaction to help capture those special memories for the families she served for 50-plus years.

"Her family pictures were countless. She never met a person she wouldn't take pictures for," David said.

Starting in 1970, she would attend her sons' athletic events, taking pictures and videotaping games, which led to her continuing to do the same for many athletes passing through Wasco High School and other high schools in Kern County.

Barbara was also a loyal member of the Community Scholarship Association committee as treasurer, supported the Wasco Historical Society as treasurer and was a former Grand Marshal of the Wasco Rose Festival.

Barbara Lucas

For her contributions to the community, she was honored with several recognitions, including being named a Paul Harris Fellow from the Wasco Rotary Club, inducted into the Wasco High School Athletic Hall of Fame for her contributions to the school's athletics programs and celebrated by the Kern Council of Governments. Barbara was a woman of deep faith and attended several churches in Wasco, ending up as part of the congregation of Grace Community Church.

"She would attend church every Sunday if she didn't have to work. She was a Christian and enjoyed going to church," David said.

Barbara had a kind heart.

She would visit her mother-in-law, who had Alzheimer's, every day at the convalescent home for many years, driving to Shafter and doing that with several others.

"Mom was very likable. She was outgoing and would do anything for anyone. She was a giver," David said.

She instilled in her sons the value of hard work, compassion and honesty.

"I became a teacher at WHS for 30 years and three at Thomas Jefferson. I taught English and coached girls basketball, track and baseball."

Her other son, Dale, worked for PG&E and eventually moved on to an administrative position with the company.

"She was that type of person that wanted to be involved. Knowing mom, she would thank the community of Wasco and surrounding areas, as well, for allowing her to be a part of them in so many ways," David said.

VBS shining the light

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

The Shafter Mennonite Brethren Church is holding its annual Vacation Bible School this week, with the theme "Stellar Shine Jesus's Light."

SHAFTER

There were over 70 kids on hand to participate in a week of fun and learning, as the children learned how to shine Jesus's light to the world.

Pastor Pat Coyle, assisted by Music Director David Bloemhof and Song Leader Stephanie Bloemhof, helped children learn several songs, as well as choreography to go with them.

The children learned in their Bible study that Jesus teaches His people to shine his light, even when things are looking dark, or everything is bright. According to the video that the students watched, "No matter the situation, shining His light will do great things."

The morning was filled with songs, Bible study, arts and crafts, games and a snack time, with "out of this world" goodies.

During the games portion, kids wove through a galactic obstacle course of cones, making their way back home, tagging their teammate who continued the journey.

After a day of learning and fun, the entire group would return to the sanctuary and sing more songs and tell what they had learned that day, including the daily Bible verse tied to the theme for the day. On Tuesday, they were told of the way some planets have rings. "You would think that the rings are one solid ring. But, the rings are actually made up of millions of rocks, ice, and debris that work together and orbit the planet. That is the way God's children need to work together to make one big unit and family."

At the end of the week, a special session is scheduled, giving the parents and friends a chance to see what the children have learned in their time in the Stellar Universe.

The Shafter Mennonite Brethren Church will be holding its annual Summer Wrestling Camp next month, Monday-Friday, July 17-21. The camp is operated by Pastor Pat Coyle and a staff of volunteers that teach children basic techniques, such as takedowns and escapes, and also some exercises and workouts that will help develop their endurance and overall fitness.

Coyle is a former competitive wrestler, competing in high school and college, carrying that passion into his desire to teach and help the youth of Shafter and the surrounding area as they learn the sport of wrestling.

A unique feature of this camp is that it not only teaches the kids on the mat, but they also teach them off the mat. This year's theme is "First Move."

"First Move refers to people being directed to "seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness." Coyle and volunteer staff help the wrestlers with their techniques on the mat, while letting them learn in a relaxed and supportive atmosphere, building their confidence and strengthening their knowledge of the sport while giving them a positive perspective.

"This camp helps them prepare for their respective competitive teams as they look to move forward in their wrestling experience," he explained.

The camp is from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. each day, concluding with a special exhibition event held on Friday evening at 7 p.m. This is a chance for the parents and friends to watch what the kids have learned throughout the week and to socialize with one another as they watch the matches over dessert.

The camp is for incoming kindergartners through sixth graders. The cost of the camp is $201 those interested can register online at shaftermb.org.

The wrestling camp teaches the kids a number of exercises and workouts.

Pizza Factory has a new owner

VERONICA JACUINDE
Wasco Tribune

WASCO

Pizza Factory has a new owner, Frank Almanza, who hopes to continue delivering the best dining experience in the community.

Almanza took over the restaurant last November and said he has been warmly welcomed.

He is originally from Los Angeles, but moved to Kern County in 2006 when he got hired by the California Department of Corrections. He has lived in Kern County ever since.

Almanza has had a fruitful career in law enforcement, first as a correctional officer and then as a fire captain, the position he currently holds working at the Wasco State Prison, where he has been for the last 17 years.

He is a US Navy veteran deployed to Iraq twice and said his experience in the military taught him skills he now uses as a restaurateur.

In addition, Almanza has a bachelor's degree in business from the University of Phoenix.

The restaurant's operation is family-run, with his two teenage children and parents lending a hand. "They help clean and sanitize to get the restaurant looking good. We do a lot of work behind the scenes," Almanza said.

He also counts on the support of his girlfriend, Margarita, who is his business partner.

Almanza is a seasoned entrepreneur, as he also owns an ice cream shop in Wasco, La Michoacana Premier, since August 2022.

He said people from Bakersfield, Delano and Shafter come to the Wasco Pizza Factory location because of the quality of food.

"All of our pizzas are made from scratch with fresh ingredients, from the dough to the cheese to the sauce. We don't buy anything pre-made in any way."

Pizza Factory offers wings, pastas, sandwiches, salads, potato wedges, beer and wine.

"We offer a full dining experience that can seat up to 200 with five televisions within the restaurant. We have a party room that fits 40-50 people and a game room for the kids to enjoy themselves. It is a family environment."

In the next few months, they hope also to have karaoke.

"In the past, there have been bingo and trivia night. That is something we are considering bringing back."

Almanza said they have the best value in town as far as buffets, which they offer Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. They also have daily specials like Wing Wednesdays for discounted prices.

Since taking over the restaurant, Almanza has made it a point to become a part of the community. He has sponsored local cheer, football and wrestling teams.

He also has hired locally. "Our staff are teens in junior high or high school ages 16 to 18."

He said it's important to him to work with his staff and create a schedule so they can work around being college students or fulfilling their other extracurricular activities.

Almanza also said that he wants the public to have a great experience, "So they see the difference between a national brand like Dominos and us. I believe we provide above and beyond those national brands."

Pizza Factory, 2325 Highway 46, is open Sunday through Thursday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday until 10 p.m. For more information or to place an order for delivery, call 661-240-5262. You can also follow them on Facebook at Wasco Pizza Factory.

The confiscated firearms and other illegal paraphernalia.

Three men from Wasco were arrested on Tuesday morning for allegedly brandishing a firearm and other charges.

Deputies from the Wasco substation responded to the 1800 block of F Street regarding a brandishing firearm call. They learned the suspects were occupying a white four-door Dodge Charger that had driven through the area multiple times.

After the subjects showed the firearm, they fled the area in the vehicle. Deputies circled the area and lo-was conducted and revealed it was occupied by Justin Pineda Mendez, 18, Keving Madrigal, 22, and Adan Acosta, 18.

All three were arrested and booked at the Central Receiving Facility for exhibiting a firearm, criminal threats, possession of a large capacity magazine, concealed weapon in a vehicle, conspiracy, carrying a loaded firearm by a gang member, participation in a criminal street gang, child cruelty, possession of marijuana for sale and possession of concentrated cannabis.

drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 to the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state, will be held by duly appointed trustee. The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by the Deed of Trust, with interest and late charges thereon, as provided in the note(s), advances, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, interest thereon, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee for the total amount (at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale) reasonably estimated to be set forth below. The amount may be greater on the day of sale. BENEFICIARY MAY ELECT TO BID LESS THAN THE TOTAL AMOUNT DUE. Trustor(s): Eddie Dee Johnson, an unmarried man Recorded: 5/23/2013 as Instrument No. 0213072854 of Official Records in the office of the Recorder of KERN County, California; Date of Sale: 7/31/2023 at 10:00 AM Place of Sale: At the Front Entrance to the City Hall, 1501 Truxtun Avenue, Bakersfield, CA 93301 Amount of unpaid balance and other charges: $201,894.25 The purported property address is: 1231 PECAN ST, WASCO, CA 93280 Assessor's Parcel No.: 487-271-07-00-6 NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this internet website <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-23-951641-AB. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 800-280-2832, or visit this internet website <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-23-951641-AB to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE OWNER-OCCUPANT: Any prospective owner-occupant as defined in Section 2924m of the California Civil Code who is the last and highest bidder at the trustee's sale shall provide the required affidavit or declaration of eligibility to the auctioneer at the trustee's sale or shall have it delivered to QUALITY LOAN SERVICE CORPORATION by 5 p.m. on the next business day following the trustee's sale at the address set forth in the below signature block. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holder's right's against the real property only. PASTORS CORNER

Wisdom and adversity

PASTOR SPENCER CARPENTER
Congregational Bible Church

We live in a world full of trials, troubles, struggles, hardships, frustrations and disappointments. Adversities happen unexpectedly and are out of our control. Loss of a job, an opportunity, money, health, or a loved one. "Man is born for trouble, as sparks fly upwards" (Job 5:7). The wise Christian expects troubles in our fallen world. God's Word reveals a wise perspective to understand adversity and to make a righteous plan to face it when it inevitably arrives.

Adversity turns you to God. Adversity is used by God to turn us back to Him and His Word in greater trust and dependence. The book of Psalms is a great place to turn when you are struggling in adversity. "Turn Yourself to me, and have mercy on me, for I am desolate and afflicted. The troubles of my heart have enlarged; bring me out of my distress!" (Psalms 25:16-17). The Psalms often move from low to high, when a beleaguered soul turns to God in trust, praise, and hope. "Oh, love the Lord, all you His saints! For the Lord preserves the faithful, and fully repays the proud person. Be of good courage, and He shall strengthen your heart, all you who hope in the Lord." (Psalms 31:23-24; see also Psalms 34:17-19; 1 Pet 5:6-7).

Adversity builds character. Adversity is used by God to build our character and growth in Christlikeness. "We rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope" (Romans 5:3b-4). The wise may rejoice in tribulations because when difficulties are met with faithfulness, then they result in endurance and Christlikeness. Tribulations in life are like a forge where we are the metal and the master craftsman's hammer comes down and pounds on us with trials, to form us into the image of Jesus Christ (Rom 8:29; 2 Cor 3:18). Remember the fruit of the Spirit is "love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control" (Galatians 5:22-23a). How are adversities helping you to grow in these areas?

Adversity offers opportunities. In adversity the Christian qualities of faith have the opportunity to shine brightly in our lives. Opportunities like giving a testimony, growing in the Christlikeness, and reaching out and serving others. "[God] comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God" (2 Corinthians 1:4). After we endure trials, then we are able to offer comfort and advice to others who are going through the same struggles. What a tremendous God-given opportunity for mutual encouragement, love, comfort, consolation and counseling.

Adversity adds wisdom. All adversity will push you to react wisely and to grow from the experience (James 1:2-5). Christians should pray earnestly for God's wisdom to press on, to be faithful and to skillfully navigate the trial in the best and most God honoring way possible. What specific Scriptures apply to my hardship? How may God be using this trouble to turn me to Him in greater faith and dependence? What areas of my character is God refining me more like Christ? What opportunities to repent, to forgive, to love or to reach out to others have arisen because of this trial? What specific wise principles have I learned through this whole ordeal? God gives the faithful the answers in His Word and strength to endure any adversity.

HOW TO ADVERTISE EFFECTIVELY AND ECONOMICALLY

Our sales representatives are pleased to help you compose the most effective ad at a minimum cost. Here are two key points to remember about your ads: 1. If it's an item you're selling, remember to include as much information as possible. The more potential buyers know about the item you have for sale, the more interest they have in calling you. 2. Our reputation for Classified Advertising results is excellent. But not every potential buyer will read your ad on the same day. The majority of our private party advertisers take advantage of our discount rates. This simply means that you order your ad for two consecutive issues, but should you get the results you desire before the ad has expired, you may call and cancel the ad and be refunded for the days the ad did not appear. Except for GR - no refunds or changes accepted.

GENERAL POLICY

1. Rates and deadlines subject to change without notice.
2. The Shafter Press and Wasco Tribune make every effort to avoid errors in advertisements. Each ad is carefully read back for approval. However, mistakes sometimes slip through. We ask that you check your ad carefully. If you should find an error, report it to the Classified Department right away by calling 661-292-5100 and asking for Classified. We regret that we cannot be responsible for more than one incorrect publication if you do not call the error to our attention. The Shafter Press and Wasco Tribune cannot be liable for an amount greater than the amount paid for such advertising.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS.

 choose to farm," she says.
 Holtermann explained that it is getting more difficult to farm, with the regulations and challenges that current farmers face. "But, without families doing what we do, farming will look different in the years to come. We need to support and encourage family farms and the longevity of farming for our community and our children."

 One of the challenges now is the price of almonds in today's market. Holtermann said that in her 20 years of almond farming, she has seen prices fluctuate between 90 cents and $4 return to the grower, with grocery stores charging an average of $10 per pound. "Currently, the price is about $1.50 per pound, with costs being between $1 [and] $1.50."

 Holtermann and her husband are working on increasing their water efficiency and technology used on the farm to ensure that they are being the best stewards of the land.
 Asked what one of the biggest challenges she faces in farming Holtermann said, "Being a woman in agriculture is a big one. I serve on numerous boards in my community and in agriculture where I am the only woman or one of few who have repainted their farm."

 She also blogs about her life on the farm, with Instagram postings on @almondgirljenny, and a website, almondgirljenny.com.

 The bike parade became a new tradition that started last year with the partnership of the Toys for Tigers organization.
 "Decorate your bike, trike, stroller or wagon and ride around Barker Park. Kids get a fun medal and ice cream treat for participating," he said.

 "I look forward to the finale part, seeing how filled the park is with people of all ages, the excitement and the enjoyment that the beautiful dazzling, glittering, sparkling, glowing fireworks of all different colors brings as it is a work of art in the sky," Serna said.

Home-grown public servant advocates fo mental policies, agriculture and access to health care in rural communities.

 Hurtado said she entered politics because of poverty.
 "It's a vicious cycle. In the Central Valley, we know that poverty does not discriminate. The economic recession of 2008 was felt across the nation, and it was especially difficult for our communities," she said.
 "When communities across the nation began to recover, our communities were still struggling. I have always had a passion for public service and have wanted to approach positive change through policy and create opportunities for people."

Hurtado enjoys working as a senator.
 "I love my job. The people of Senate District 16 have given me the honor of a lifetime, and every day I am thankful to have the opportunity to serve our communities."
 She said being a state senator comes with some challenges -- "like in my first year, I ran a bill to help prevent teen suicides, and that bill was held in the Assembly Appropriations for no apparent reason. I was upset, to say the least."
 "There was another time I carried a piece of legislation to extend restraining orders for victims of sexual assault — that bill died in the first hearing. I walked out of the hearing room and cried for about two hours."

Hurtado shared that there is, at times, an emotional toll behind her work.
 "Because these bills represent the stories, the heartbreaks, the challenges that our neighbors, our loved ones, and community all have to overcome, and it should never have to be difficult to try and create positive change."
 "Those experiences have made her a stronger advocate for the region.
 "They have taught me that when one door closes, another one opens. And sometimes, you just have to go open another door."
 She represents close to a million people, which is more than what a member of Congress represents.
 "Our district size is large enough to fit multiple states in it. While I may at times not remember every name or every face that lives in our district, I remember every story and every celebration of victory."
 Hurtado added, "Every story and every victory reminds me of why I love my job, while giving me the courage and wisdom to continue the work on behalf of our region."
 She said she is most proud of playing a key role in SB200.
 "By securing millions of dollars every year for safe drinking water projects for our region and beyond. And for securing the funds to fix conveyance projects in the Valley like the Friant Kern Canal that is vitally important to communities in Kern County."
 "Also, funding for public safety infrastructure for our region. These accomplishments I am most proud of because they represent the most challenging to secure."

Hurtado said her work is rewarding.
 "Both personally and professionally, the opportunity to be of service and improve the quality of life through legislative victories that serve this state, the nation and the world through its agricultural work is one of the most rewarding aspects of this work."
 She also said she loves to learn, and she learns something new every day. And she seems to make history almost every day.
 "During my time in the Senate, with every committee I have chaired, I am the youngest person to serve in that capacity, meaning this year, I am the youngest chair of the Senate Committee on Agriculture in state history. I am also the first Latina to chair this position in the Senate, too."
 Among the issues she cares most about is the environment.
 "Climate disasters are impacting us in ways we do not see or do not consider. That is why my niche or area of expertise in the California State Senate includes protecting our water, our farms, and overall our food system."
 "Famine or food scarcity is not just an issue in some foreign far away country, we too risk this, and we first saw a glimpse during the pandemic when grocery stores had empty shelves."
 She has bright hopes for the future.
 "More and better economic opportunities for every walk of life in the food and energy sector in our region."
 "This means, I want to secure the Central Valley's role as the breadbasket of California, and the US, by educating the rest of California, my peers in the legislature, and folks outside our state about the outsized role the Central Valley plays."
